Point out new ways!

The participation managers show the young adults ways into qualification, training, and employment.

Individual counselling and support!

The counselling provided by the participation managers is tailored to the individual needs of the person. They provide support with questions about work, education, and training. Housing, finances, health, and leisure. If necessary, they refer people to other services.

Where do the participation managers provide advice?

The counselling services of the participation managers are offered throughout the district in all 24 towns and municipalities. There are contact points in the cities of Rheine, Steinfurt, Greven, Lengerich and Ibbenbüren.

In addition, counselling can also take place at home or in other places (for example in a café).
